

Faye Lambert

Organisational Coach and Consultant

Coupled with individual coaching, Faye Lambert's passion resides in working with leaders and teams to empower them with a shared code of practice that underpins organisational resilience and innovation. Embedded in this practice, is the recognition of the critical role played by the quality of relationships and conversations in achieving desired outcomes. This work is particularly relevant in cross-boundary projects in which communication becomes more complex.

Faye's deep understanding of evaluation and perspectives from the field of ontology are a powerful combination in assisting organisations to clarify their objectives, identify what needs to change and work with the individuals and teams who need to embrace and implement the change.

Prior to working as a consultant, Faye held a number of senior management roles. As a key change agent, she has been responsible for building internal capability via fundamental business restructure, the introduction of authentic performance enhancement processes and staff development programs.

With a PhD in evaluation and organisational improvement, Faye has presented and published both nationally and internationally in the key areas of teaching and learning; leadership and team development; program evaluation; and organisational change.
