

Kim Willing

Organisational Coach and Facilitator

Kim Willing is a highly experienced facilitator, trainer and Ontological Coach operating as a Hobart-based Alliance Partner of Newfield Institute.

Her focus is designing and facilitating participative meetings and events that produce real learning, innovation and ownership of outcomes amongst diverse interests.

Kim has over 20 years experience in providing facilitative leadership training to all levels of government, the community and not-for-profit sectors across Australia. She is often described as inclusive and engaging.

Kim's curiosity and passion for working with people in this way began in the natural resource management sector where she worked for over 12 years in partnership and community development in the areas of Landcare, Coastcare and the development of the cooperatively managed 'Tasmanian Trail'.

Ontological principles are integral to Kim's practice – providing a solid foundation for sustained learning and change at an individual, team and organisational level.

Kim supports people to access their most innovative thinking and develop creative approaches to complex dilemmas. She aims to enable quality dialogue, and learning that makes a difference.

Qualifications

- Bachelor of Natural Resources
- Graduate Diploma of Ontological Coaching

Areas of Expertise

- Individual and group coaching
- Facilitation (small groups to large conferences)
- Creative strategic planning
- Team effectiveness
- Event design
- Stakeholder engagement
- Training in Facilitative Leadership and Communication

Recent Experience

- Tasmanian Natural Resource Management Regional Bodies
- Tasmanian Premier's Office
- In2construction
- Hobart City Council
- Dept. Of Health and Human Services
- Dept. Of Economic Development, Tourism and the Arts, Tasmania
- CSIRO

Contact

Mobile: 0428 399 798

Email: kim@newfieldinstitute.com.au

Web: www.newfieldinstitute.com.au